

Steve Job's gal Laurene Powell Jobs Is Getting Raped By Her Advisors and Investment Bankers

By Donna Carlson

When you meet her at a socialite party or a tech conference you would think she is just another doe-eyed blonde consumed with virtue signalling on an epic scale. She seems nice enough. Her Colgate smile and perfect facial symmetry disclose a woman trapped by social assumptions into either the "popular girl" in high school or the ultimate trophy wife suppositions. In fact, she is something altogether different: A victim!

Her CPA's, investment bankers, lobbyists, "political advisors", new political boyfriends, and social hangers-on have manipulated her and Steve Job's money into something dark and sinister.

Laurene thrives on Silicon Valley echo-chambered social reinforcement but those who have surrounded her are using her money to operate political and financial crimes at her expense.

The scheme ministers that have surrounded her work like this; modern politicians, lobbyists, political campaign financiers and broadcasters get cash, sex, parties and mansions through this process of corruption:

You pay taxes >>> The corrupt insiders take your taxes and give it to their friends >>> Those friends of the corrupt insiders pay the first corrupt insiders with "donations" and internet rigging services in exchange >>> All of the corrupt insiders have investment banks hide their money in covert ways >>> They then repeat the process >>>

There is not a single one of them that is concerned about you, the individual taxpayer, or your family. They are ALL of the Democrat, Republican, Libertarian and Socialist executive party bosses. The only thing they care about is keeping their own personal cash, sex, parties and mansions going. Once addicted to the corruption pipeline, do you honestly think any of them are going to give up massive amounts of free cash, super hot sex with hookers and rent boys, epic Hollywood parties with rock stars and mansions with maids? !!!

There is not a single Democrat, Republican, Libertarian or Socialist executive party boss who wants to expose or shut down the whole corruption process because these pigs all feed at the same trough. That is why it all keeps on going even though it is so obviously a criminal finance scam.

These corrupt politicians will talk about "fixing pot holes" and "education" and "women's rights" when they are on-camera but they never discuss or care about those buzzword issues when they are in their offices. In their offices they just negotiate scams with campaign financiers.

Their entire efforts are all about getting your money out of your pockets and into their pockets by manipulating the tax money that comes into government Treasuries. Modern politics no longer has any pretense of meaning to provide you with services. The current system bypasses the use of your tax money for your benefit and sends it directly to the corrupt for their own personal benefit. As we have all seen, even the FBI and CIA are tainted with corruption, payola, insider trading and kick-backs.

Big services firms that "LPJ" and her ultra-rich peers use (ie: Perkins Coie, Goldman Sachs, Wells Fargo, Podesta Group, etc.) spend all day doing crimes at the furthest edges of legal questionably.

They come up with schemes that benefit their criminal plans and then pitch them to her under the guise of some sort of social justice facade that will tug at her heartstrings. When a big magazine or newspaper is failing, it becomes a "help expand the voice of the people.." BS proposal to Laurene. A giant sell job by a corporate business "acquisition intermediary" from Deloitte, facilitated by her closest "friends" is really there to pad the finders fee accounts of all of those involved. They care nothing about her and everything about her bank account.

She is being harvested for Steve Job's cash. While Job's Asperger mannerisms made him an "asshole" to be around, she does not feel that his money is "owed" to her for putting up with him. Most of her intentions are sincere.

The people that have insinuated themselves into sphere are frauds and criminals, though. The women that slide up to hug her and French air kiss both of her cheeks are often not her friends but her enemies. Some of the guys she is dating are looking to her as just a sex-and-power object and a source of campaign financing.

Is she naive? Yes, a bit.

Her close advisors are her worst enemies so they are only digging her deeper into her situation.

The SEC or the FBI need to step in here. She and her billions are getting scammed and used to create corrupt political empires that only serve to create more political corruption.

Laurene needs an intervention!
